

CHILDREN'S LITERATURE GRADUATE CREDIT CERTIFICATE PROGRAM

Person-in-Charge	Elisa Shaw Hopkins
Program Code	CHDLIT
Campus(es)	World Campus

The goal of the program is to provide students with an in-depth background in the theories and genres of literature for children and youth while also considering pedagogical (broadly construed) and cultural implications.

The program does not lead to any initial teacher certification, but may assist students with recertification. Students should check with their specific state departments of education for regulations regarding recertification. At least half of the course credits taken must be at the 500 or 800 level.

Effective Semester: Summer 2022

Expiration Semester: Summer 2027

Admission Requirements

Applicants apply for admission to the program via the Graduate School application for admission (<https://gradschool.psu.edu/graduate-admissions/how-to-apply/>). Requirements listed here are in addition to Graduate Council policies listed under GCAC-300 Admissions Policies (<https://gradschool.psu.edu/graduate-education-policies/>). Courses

Graduate courses carry numbers from 500 to 699 and 800 to 899. Advanced undergraduate courses numbered between 400 and 499 may be used to meet some graduate degree requirements when taken by graduate students. Courses below the 400 level may not. A graduate student may register for or audit these courses in order to make up deficiencies or to fill in gaps in previous education but not to meet requirements for an advanced degree.

Learning Outcomes

- Theories and Genres: Develop and demonstrate an understanding of the theories and genres of literature for children and youths
- Childhood and Children's Literature: Consider and discuss childhood as an idea and children's literature as a social project and cultural artifact
- Diversity and Social Justice: Develop and demonstrate an understanding of issues of race, class, gender, and disability in children's literature
- Children's Literature in the Classroom and Beyond: Consider and discuss pedagogical and cultural implications
