

INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT POLICY GRADUATE CREDIT CERTIFICATE PROGRAM

Graduate Program Head	Elizabeth Ransom
Program Code	INTLDP
Campus(es)	University Park

This program provides students, professionals, and others with an accessible, professional education in the rapidly evolving field of international development policy. Students can study geopolitical, cultural, and legal aspects of international affairs pertaining to economic development. The certificate is a strong addition to the resume of anyone interested in a career in international relations, public policy, intelligence, defense, military affairs, counterterrorism, diplomacy, NGOs, international business, international law, or economic development.

Effective Semester: Fall 2018

Expiration Semester: Fall 2023

Admission Requirements

Applicants apply for admission to the program via the Graduate School application for admission (<https://gradschool.psu.edu/graduate-admissions/how-to-apply/>). Requirements listed here are in addition to Graduate Council policies listed under GCAC-300 Admissions Policies (<https://gradschool.psu.edu/graduate-education-policies/>). International applicants may be required to satisfy an English proficiency requirement; see GCAC-305 Admission Requirements for International Students (<https://gradschool.psu.edu/graduate-education-policies/gcac/gcac-300/gcac-305-admission-requirements-international-students/>) for more information.

All applicants submit an application (including payment of the nonrefundable application fee), two letters of recommendation, and a personal statement addressing their reasons for pursuing a certificate in international development policy and discussing their plans and goals.

Certificate Requirements

Requirements listed here are in addition to requirements listed in Graduate Council policy GCAC-212 Postbaccalaureate Credit Certificate Programs (<https://gradschool.psu.edu/graduate-education-policies/gcac/gcac-200/gcac-212-postbaccalaureate-credit-certificate-programs/>).

The 12-credit program offers a unique balance of academic study, hands-on training, and professional development; it includes 3 credits of SIA core courses, 3 credits in additional SIA core courses or SIA electives, and 6 credits in additional 400, 500, or 800 level courses. In some cases, at the discretion of the certificate program head, substitution of a relevant course from an appropriate unit may be possible. All courses must be taken for a letter grade with at least a 3.0 grade-point average maintained; no grades below a C will be counted toward the certificate.

Code	Title	Credits
Required Courses
3 Credits in SIA Core Courses. Select from the following:		3

INTAF 506	International Economics: Principles, Policies, and Practices
INTAF 803	Multi-sector and Quantitative Analysis
3 Credits in Additional SIA Core Courses or SIA Electives		3
6 Credits in Additional 400, 500, and 800 Level Courses on topics relevant to International Development Policy		6

Courses

Graduate courses carry numbers from 500 to 699 and 800 to 899. Advanced undergraduate courses numbered between 400 and 499 may be used to meet some graduate degree requirements when taken by graduate students. Courses below the 400 level may not. A graduate student may register for or audit these courses in order to make up deficiencies or to fill in gaps in previous education but not to meet requirements for an advanced degree.

Learning Outcomes

1. Students will develop an understanding of economic analysis in the international context.
2. Students will be able to apply the knowledge they obtain to real-world examples.
