

ANCIENT MEDITERRANEAN STUDIES

---

Learning Outcomes

1. KNOW: Demonstrate breadth and knowledge of one or more subfields involved in the study of the Ancient Mediterranean world (e.g., Classics, Ancient Near East, Egypt, Hebrew Bible, Early Christianity) and be able to critically evaluate, integrate, and apply that knowledge.
2. APPLY/CREATE: Acquire proficiency in conducting research, including formulating research questions, designing methodologies, and effectively utilizing academic resources to contribute to the scholarly discourse in the field.
3. COMMUNICATE: Communicate the major issues involved in the study of the ancient Mediterranean world at all levels of expertise.
4. THINK: Develop advanced critical thinking skills to evaluate and interpret primary and secondary sources, including texts, artifacts, archaeological evidence, and visual materials.
5. PROFESSIONAL PRACTICE: Know and conduct themselves in accordance with the highest ethical standards and values.