

ABA REQUIRED DISCLOSURES

The Council of the Section of Legal Education and Admissions to the Bar of the American Bar Association, the accrediting body for U.S. law schools, requires each approved law school to publicly disclose on its website specific data and information as set forth in Standard 509 of the ABA Standards and Rules of Procedure for Approval of Law Schools. Penn State Law's compliance with Standard 509 is available on its website (<https://pennstatelaw.psu.edu/admissions/aba-required-disclosures>).
