

PENN STATE ABINGTON, THE ABINGTON COLLEGE

About the College

Gary Liguori, Ph.D., Chancellor and Dean, Penn State Abington

Located just five miles north of Philadelphia, Penn State Abington's vibrant college environment is enhanced by the resources of a world-class research university. Our accomplished faculty is invested in the success of a diverse student body, offering an affordable, accessible, and high-impact education.

Abington is a dynamic community comprised of more than 3,100 students who are guided by the principles of innovation, engagement, multiculturalism, and inclusion. Students can choose from 25 bachelor's degree programs and earn their Penn State degree at Abington or start the first two years of more than 275 Penn State majors at Abington. Co-curricular opportunities include undergraduate research, the Abington Honors program and the Schreyer Honors College, short- and long-term study abroad, NCAA Division III athletics, the Lions Gate student apartments, and more than 35 clubs and organizations. We offer continuing education, programs for working professionals, and the LaunchBox innovation hub for entrepreneurs.

MORE INFORMATION ABOUT THE COLLEGE (<https://www.abington.psu.edu/>)

Mission and Goals

We provide an affordable, accessible, and high-impact education resulting in the success of a diverse student body. We aspire to be a campus where students, regardless of their starting point, discover pathways to graduation and achievement in a lifelong quest for learning, service, and fulfillment of personal and collective potential.

MORE INFORMATION ABOUT THE MISSION AND GOALS OF PENN STATE ABINGTON (<https://www.abington.psu.edu/this-is-penn-state/mission-vision-identity/>)