

AGRIBUSINESS MANAGEMENT, MINOR

Requirements for a minor may be completed at any campus location offering the specified courses for the minor. Students may not change from a campus that offers their major to a campus that does not offer their major for the purpose of completing a minor.

Program Description

The Agribusiness Management minor is offered for students who wish to add business and management principles to their undergraduate major.

What is Agribusiness Management?

Agribusiness Management is the branch of business management focusing on food and agriculture. It includes all the people and businesses that are part of value chains for food and agricultural products, and all the public and private institutions that influence the global food system.

You Might Like This Program If...

- You want to learn how to apply business principles to real-world issues while having the opportunity to work closely with faculty and your fellow students.
- You are interested in how the global food system works, and how to manage interactions among stakeholders in the food system.
- You are a “people person” and you have a passion for food and agriculture.
- You want to pursue a career in your major and obtain the business management skills that will allow you to advance in your career.
