Change of Campus

All students who begin their studies at one of the Penn State campuses are expected to complete their first two years at that campus. Students may request a temporary or permanent change of campus via LionPATH. More information about the change-of-campus process can be found at our website.

Concurrent Majors

A Concurrent Majors Program is one in which students take courses to concurrently meet the requirements of at least two majors, with graduation for all majors in the program occurring during the same semester.

To add a concurrent major in the College of Agricultural Sciences, students must:

1. Initiate the "Add Major" function in LionPATH (Update Academics)
2. Complete both paper forms (the university form and the college form)
3. Once the forms are completed and submitted, the LionPATH approval can take place.

Academic Warning

A student who fails to earn a 2.00 cumulative grade-point average will be placed on academic warning. A student placed on academic warning will have a hold placed on registration and will be required to meet with an academic adviser in order for this registration hold to be removed. To remove academic warning, the cumulative grade-point average must be 2.00 or higher.

Students in Academic Warning should work closely with their assigned academic adviser or the College of Agricultural Sciences Advising Center to identify and address issues impacting their academic success.

Academic Suspension

A student in academic warning who fails to maintain a semester grade-point average of 2.00 or higher will be academically suspended. A student who has been academically suspended may not schedule courses at the University for two consecutive semesters. (Note: Summer session is equal to one semester.)

Students who are academically suspended should work closely with their assigned academic adviser or the College of Agricultural Sciences Advising Center to develop a success plan that will be implemented during suspension. At the conclusion of suspension, students must apply for re-enrollment and submit the required materials for college review.
