Resources

Wilbur K. Kraybill Academic Advising Center
The Wilbur K. Kraybill Academic Advising Center is staffed by professional Division of Undergraduate Studies advisers. The advisers serve to provide information regarding academic policies and procedures, assist in developing short-term/long-term academic planning, and refer students to campus resources. Our mission is to provide students with access to well-informed academic advisers who will assist them as they explore, develop and implement realistic educational goals and plans.

Learning Resources Center
The Learning Resources Center (LRC) helps Penn State Altoona students to be successful in learning. All of our services are free to Penn State Altoona students, and the simplest way to get started is to come and visit us. The LRC is located on the first floor of the Eiche Library building. Most of our tutoring is handled by professional tutors or by instructors from the discipline. In some subjects, we also offer peer tutoring.

Engaged Scholarship
Penn State Altoona students have a multitude and variety of opportunities to participate in activities outside of the classroom. These out-of-class activities are designed to complement in-class learning. The activities and experiences vary widely, but common examples include study abroad/study away (both domestic and international travel), academic internships/clinical work, research/creative activities, and community-based studies.
