Program Learning Objectives

• Understanding of the complexity of individual and family development across the lifespan in diverse contexts and in changing environments.
• Evaluate and Apply Research and Theory to Practice and Policy.
• Ability to analyze processes, policies, and contextual factors that affect the delivery of human services to individuals and families.
• Professional ethical and culturally sensitive standards of conduct.
• Knowledge and competence in helping, leadership, and administrative human service skills.