Members of the class of 2024 are encouraged to become involved in campus life. Participation in campus life contributes to a successful experience in college and may improve the chances of graduating on time. In addition, students who participate in campus activities are more likely to express positive feelings about their college experience and are more likely to graduate. Participation in campus life also provides opportunities for students to develop leadership and other important personal skills.

The Office of Student Life at Penn State encourages students to get involved in campus life by offering a wide variety of opportunities. Students can participate in student organizations, attend events, and get involved in campus activities. The Office of Student Life also provides resources to help students get involved and stay involved in campus life.

The Office of Student Life at Penn State offers a wide variety of resources to help students get involved in campus life. Students can find information about student organizations, events, and activities on the Office of Student Life website. The Office of Student Life also provides resources to help students plan their involvement in campus life, including tips on how to find the right student organizations, how to get involved in campus events, and how to make the most of their college experience.