LAW AND SOCIETY, B.A.

Begin Campus: World Campus

End Campus: World Campus

Program Learning Objectives

- Career-Related Skills:
  - Students will demonstrate the ability and desire to engage in lifelong learning.
  - Students will apply critical reasoning and asymmetrical approaches to complex career environments.
  - Students will develop an understanding in the rules of professional conduct that are inherent in the study and practice of law in related careers.

- Communication Skills:
  - Students will demonstrate appropriate writing strategies and conventions for legal writing; focusing on specific purpose, voice, and tone.
  - Students will develop written and oral communication skills to express informed opinions regarding sociolegal issues.

- Content Knowledge:
  - Students will form a foundational base of how law and social structures intertwine.
  - Students will articulate the distinction between jurisprudence and real law.
  - Students will demonstrate the application of law through legal institutions with a focus on the relationship between political and social change.

- Diversity Skills:
  - Students will articulate the influence of race, gender, and economic status in law and social change.
  - Students will develop an appreciation for the role law plays in the emergence of a global society.

- Research Skills:
  - Students will articulate the applicability of sociological research to the construction, implementation, and evaluation of sociolegal policy.
  - Students will demonstrate an understanding of commonly used methods of inquiry – historical, observation, experience, and survey.
  - Students will demonstrate digital fluency by navigating information resources in order to support their efforts to communicate their findings persuasively.

- Thinking Skills:
  - Students will identify the substance of an argument and evaluate it for soundness and validity.
  - Students will demonstrate a proficieny in legal analysis and critical reasoning.
  - Students will demonstrate how critical thinking is used as an instrument of law in the analysis of social change.