Management, Minor

Requirements for a minor may be completed at any campus location offering the specified courses for the minor. Students may not change from a campus that offers their major to a campus that does not offer their major for the purpose of completing a minor.

Program Description
Every organization depends on individuals who can effectively lead the people and processes that help the organization reach its goals. A minor in management offers students of any discipline the tools to lead and motivate people, develop effective organizational structures and processes, apply legal and appropriate human resources principles, and sustain ethical and inclusive goals.

If you see yourself running your own medical practice, landscaping operation, veterinary office, financial advising firm, or any other professional business, this minor can provide you with valuable insights into achieving your organizational goals.

What is Management?

You Might Like This Program If...
You see yourself running your own medical practice, landscaping operation, veterinary office, financial advising firm, or any other professional business, this minor can provide you with valuable insights into achieving your organizational goals. Having an expertise in a specialty area such as graphic design is often not enough to run a successful business in that specialty. A management minor helps you learn to manage people, processes and your overall organization.

Career Paths
A minor in Management can be earned by students in many Penn State degree programs, meaning that your opportunities are endless. Students with management minors may pursue their own entrepreneurial endeavors, or begin their careers in contexts such as human resources or operations management, in assistant roles. Talk with your academic adviser and your campus Career Services office about how your chosen major & career intentions can be enhanced with a management minor.
