ANATOMY - MD (ANAT)

ANAT 715: Human Gross Anatomy

6 Credits

This course will provide exposure to core human anatomical structures, emphasizing critical relationships and clinical significance.

Prerequisite: completion of all course work prerequisite for admission to the Penn State University College of Medicine; Concurrent: Foundations of Patient Centered Care; Public Health and Socio-Ecological Medicine

ANAT 743: Musculoskeletal Advanced Anatomy

3 Credits

This course provides exposure to the relevancy of anatomy to the clinical setting and specifically covers topics related to musculoskeletal clinical presentations.

Prerequisite: successful completion of the 3rd year of medical school

ANAT 797A: Advanced Dissection

1 Credit

Special topics course.